

Project Manager (m/f)

As the external project manager, you run complex, demanding projects at the crossroads of IT and business. Your role goes far beyond being a consultant to your clients, as you take real responsibility for delivering results. Your success is defined by your customers achieving the desired value-adding process and business changes.

Your responsibilities include:

- Requirements gathering, definition of the project goals and business results, and a realistic project plan
- Establishing a management model, project structure and project organisation
- Creation of a resilient project plan and commitment of project results
- Agreement on resources and budgets
- Leading the project team (directly or sometimes in collaboration with the clients' project lead)
- Monitoring the project progress (time & money) and initiation of all corrective measures to ensure the project success
- Regular project reviews with the clients' senior management
- Involvement and enablement of all affected business departments to guarantee the successful transition to the new processes in the daily business
- Active knowledge sharing within the Consec team

Your knowledge, skills and abilities:

- Long lasting experience in managing large, complex (IT-) projects or as a senior manager in IT or business process roles
- Broad and solid knowledge of project management methods and tools, both traditional and agile
- Ideally coming from a process background in the automotive, aerospace or financial services industries
- Personal integrity and responsibility, customer orientation and authority
- Good understanding for the soft, human success factors in projects and organisations
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills to create a solid relationship with the decision makers at our clients
- Fluent in both English and German

Our offer:

- Ownership for challenging and mission-critical projects at well-known customers
- Knowledge sharing within our internal team of experts
- A company spirit that sets the benchmark for promoting the individuals' responsibility and development
- Strong teamwork based on respect
- Flexible working hours (also part-time)
- An attractive salary that matches your experience and responsibilities

Are we a good match? We are looking forward to receiving your application. Please contact Mrs Martina Ludwig, via phone +49 89 4141 743 19 or e-mail martina.ludwig@consec.de